WARRANTY

Kay Premium Marking Films should not be applied to unsound surfaces or to surfaces which may subsequently crack, peel, out-gas or are of low surface energy. It is recommended that any application surface should have an energy level in excess of 40 dyne/cm. (Polyolefins should be in excess of 45 dyne/cm). Purchasers should determine the suitability of each product prior to its intended use. Prolonged exposure to high and low temperatures in the presence of chemicals such as solvents, acids etc., may eventually cause deterioration. Durability is based on middle European exposure conditions. Actual performance will depend on substrate preparation, exposure conditions and application of marking.

IMPORTANT

Kay Premium Marking Films are produced under stringent manufacturing conditions. The information and typical values shown on the technical data sheets are based upon research believed to be reliable, and are provided without guarantee and do not constitute a warranty. The values are not for use in specifications. Ink and paint systems can affect the performance of film and also the adhesive properties, as can application techniques. Users are advised to ensure that performance and reliability are not compromised by determining the suitability of each product prior to its intended use.

Kay Premium Marking Films has achieved certificates of approval from Lloyds Register Quality Assurance, for the design and manufacture of self-adhesive plastic film, in the following categories:

Environmental Management System
BS EN ISO 14001
